Text

IN MEMORY OF WATERFORD MEN AND WOMEN WHO DIED IN WORLD WAR I

Then in the lull of midnight gentle arms
Lifted him gently down the slopes of death,
Lest he should hear again the mad alarms
Of battle, dying moans and painful breath.

And where the earth was soft for flowers
We made a grave for him that he might better rest.
So, spring shall come and leave it sweet arrayed,
And there the lark shall turn her dewy nest.

Francis Ledwidge
died Ypres Aug. 1917
